Three ECC Coeds Vie for 'Queen of Hearts'

One will be Queen of Hearts! Two will be attendant princesses in the Regency Ballroom of the Airport Marina Hotel, Feb. 21.

El Camino College coeds Beverly Bollinger, Diane Bryant and Susan Brazelton are the three finalists in the royalty race for the annual Sweethearts Ball.

Selection of the queen is made by vote of the men students of El Camino and Dr. Stuart Marsee, college president, conducts her majesty's coronation.

Miss Bollinger, 17, is a graduate of Baldwin Park High School and is presently a major in sociology. She plans to attend the University of California at Los Angeles after her transfer from Camino. During her first semester, the Gardena resident was secretary and balliff of the Student Court. She is now freshman class vice president.

Miss Bryant, an English major, is 19 and a member of Tri Phi sorority. She is a graduate of Fontana High School, but now resides in Torrance. After completion of two years at El Camino she will transfer to UCLA.

Third contestant, Susan Brazelton, is 18 years of age. Last semester she was a finalist for Grid Queen. The Inglewood coed is a yell leader and commissioner of rallies. She plans to attend the University of California at Santa Barbara to complete her education in physical education. Her plans are to become a modern dance instructor.

Barkan Appointed

Alfred Barkan of Torrance has been appointed assistant manager at the Crocker-Citizens National Bank in Redondo Beach, according to John P. Burch, vice president and manager. Barkan was formerly assistant manager at the bank's Pacific Coast Highway-Crenshaw office.

TO BE ELIGIBLE to host a student, families must provide the student his own bed, although sharing a room is fine. The family should have at least one high school student and mothers whose hours correspond to school hours are permissible. All exchange students have a good knowledge of English and spend their year in Torrance as members of the senior class at one of the city's high schools.

The AFS is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. The organization is supported through donations from individuals, firms, and foundations and currently has 2,900 active chapters in the United States.

Local Chapter Searches For Homes for Students

Torrance families interested in providing a home for a foreign student next year have been invited to submit applications to the American Field Service now.

Mrs. Mary Bartholomew, home placement chairman of the Torrance chapter of the American Field Service, said the applications are available from the local chapter. Homes are needed in the North, South, and West High School attendance areas.

Foreign students receive $14 per month allowance from the AFS. Families simply provide room and board for the student and are asked to treat the students as members of their families.

Stop Smoking Class Slates Meeting Here

A five-evening class in group therapy will be offered free to area residents who wish to stop smoking.

The class will meet once each evening beginning Sunday, Feb. 23, at the Torrance Recreation Center, 3341 Torrance Blvd.

The plan to stop smoking will focus attention on a group therapy method. Sponsored as a free public service by the Seventh-day Adventist Church of Torrance, it rates its success at 75 per cent.

Special physical regimen, including diet and exercise, are planned for five days. Studies on strengthening the will power, and a buddy system are part of the program.

Information on the program may be obtained by calling TE 0-0804.

Hahn Urges County Adopt Torrance Zoning Ordinance

Citing the zone requirement in the City of Torrance which requires the developer of commercial or industrial property to agree to install sidewalks and widen the street to accommodate increased traffic, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn is urging the county to adopt a similar plan.

The proposal, in the form of an amendment to the Zoning Ordinance, has been approved by the Regional Planning Commission and set for hearing March 5 before the Board of Supervisors.

It would require that before a building permit would be granted for a commercial or industrial development on a major or secondary county highway, the developer agree to install curbs, gutters, sidewalks and if necessary widen the street.

County Engineer John Lambie has estimated the amendment would save county taxpayers $700,000 a year.

"While much of the unincorporated area of Los Angeles County is now fully developed, it is not too late for this amendment to benefit the Antelope Valley and other growth sections," Hahn stated.
